

a new dimension
in drug discovery

Dear Customer

Priaxon is a research company focused on drug discovery for small molecule therapeutics. We open a new dimension in drug discovery by a unique combination of proprietary chemoinformatic tools with innovative synthetic chemistries, basing on MulticomponentChemistry (MCR).

The use of a synthetic powerful tool such as the MCR chemistry enables Priaxon to carry out custom syntheses and library syntheses in an uniquely efficient and reliable manner.

In addition Priaxon also offers more than 1000 isocyanide-based building blocks from diverse structural classes in order to support our customer lead evolutions and screening programs.

The structural diversity of our isocyanides ranges from aliphatic, phenylic and benzylic to multifunctional compounds such as cleavable and amino-protected isocyanides.

Our product catalogue is permanently updated to ensure a maximum of diversity both for MCR chemistry and many other classical chemical reactions.
